JUDGE BLACK DEAD

The Distinguished Jurist Expires at His Home.

The Sudden Change for the Worse in His Condition Details of His Last Hours—A Peaceful Ending of a Long and Useful Life—Sketch of His Career.

YORK, Pa., Aug. 20.—Judge Jeremiah Black died at ten minutes past 2 o'clock. Though not unexpected, his death was sudden and a shock to the community. On Saturday morning he seemed somewhat better, but the improvement was too slight to justify a hope of recovery. The unfavorable change began about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and he gradually grew worse, but remained conscious almost to the end, and died peacefully. From the beginning of his illness Judge Black believed he would never recover, and was perfectly resigned.

Mrs. Judge Black, Lieutenant Chauncey F. Black and wife, Henry A. Black, Mr. and Mrs. Hornsby, A. Farquhar, and Dr. Meisenholder were present. Many telegrams of condolence have been received. The funeral will take place on Tuesday at 5 p. m. His remains will be interred at Prospect Hill Cemetery. Dr. Powers, of the Christian Church, of Washington, will probably officiate at the funeral.

Shortly before Judge Black died he said to his wife, "How can I fear to cross the dark river when my father waits for me on the other shore?" and added, "Would I were as comfortable about all I leave behind unfinished in this world," and then breathed the following earnest prayer, "O Thou beloved and most merciful heavenly Father, from whom I had my being and in whom I have ever trusted, if it be Thy will grant that my suffering end, and that I speedily be called home to Thee, and, oh, God, bless and comfort thee, my Mary."

The immediate cause of his death was toxemia, produced by absorption of retained urinary constituents prior to the operation of Thursday. Dr. McKennon, of York, who had spent the day with the patient, noticed the appearance of unfavorable symptoms about four o'clock. Dr. Meisenholder, of York, who relieved Dr. McKennon about 9 o'clock also noticed the change for the worse, and from that hour the increasing gravity of his symptoms indicated a gradual failure of all the vital forces. Judge Black suffered greatly during his illness, but his last moments were without acute pain and he passed quietly away, retaining consciousness until within a few moments of his death.

Jeremiah S. Black was born January 10, 1810, in the Glades, Somerset county, Pa. At seventeen years of age he entered the law office of Chauncey Forward, in Somerset, and was admitted to the courts in 1830, before he had reached his majority. In 1842 he was appointed Judge of his judicial district, and in 1851 was nominated by the Democrats as Judge of the Supreme Court, and obtained the largest vote of the ten candidates nominated by the two parties. In 1854 he was re-elected by a majority of 47,000, though the Democratic candidate for Governor was defeated by 37,000. In 1857 he was appointed by President Buchanan Attorney-General of the United States, and has since then taken an active part in the public affairs of the country.

GATEKEEPER OF PARADISE.

A Crank's Foolish Fancy and Its Speedy Consequences.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 20.—John Stiner, a red-haired man, with pale, thin cheeks and wandering eyes, was put on trial in the Quarter Sessions on the charge of having sent threatening letters through the mail to W. G. Audenreid testified that Stiner had formerly been in his employ, but the man's notions became so singular that he was compelled to discharge him. The letters began to come immediately after Stiner's dismissal. Mr. Audenreid said that he did not believe that Stiner was of sound mind and for that reason he did not desire to prosecute him. He wished, however, to have the annoyance abated.

There were nine letters in all. In one of them Stiner said: "I have enlisted in the army of the Lord. When I called on the Lord he asked me what position I wanted. I said one proportioned to my strength, and he made me gatekeeper of paradise. There I am now, and no liar or sneak will be admitted into the glorious precincts. Beware!" And here he gave a long list of well-known local politicians, which it would be libelous to reproduce, but the reading of which caused quite a scene. The court charged that the letters clearly showed that the defendant's mind was not in a normal condition. The jury returned a verdict of "Not guilty, on the ground of insanity." Stiner will be sent to the Asylum for the Insane at Norristown.

NOBLES' VIEW OF IT.

His Opinion of Why He Failed to Kill Himself.

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS, N. J., Aug. 20.—The Rev. John C. Nobles, who some time ago gave notice of his intention to commit suicide, and was found by his friends on a North River dock with a stone attached to a string around his neck, has published the following card in a Red Bank paper: "To the public: Saved by a merciful Providence, after weeks of mental torture from a mind overwrought with his miseries that for a brief period I did not know myself, I now humbly bless with gratitude the Protector for his mercy. Strengthened by a loving wife, encouraged by faithful friends and with a determination to do right in everything, I ask and shall endeavor to gain by fully meriting the full confidence of the community in which I reside."

WAS IT A SUICIDE?

A Wealthy Young Man Loses His Life in Twin Lakes.

SALISBURY, Aug. 20.—No trace of the body of Thomas J. Owens, Jr., the wealthy young New Yorker, who was drowned in Twin Lakes, Canada, has as yet been found. Recent developments in the case leave no doubt in the minds of his friends that he committed suicide and was not pushed overboard by the unfortunate negro who is now under arrest charged with being the cause of his death. About eighteen months ago the dead man became a partner in the well known shipping house of Thomas J. Owens & Co. in South street, New York. His father, at his death, left his son over $200,000. The young man was a favorite wherever he was known, but, unfortunately, he became dissipated and was soon a mere shadow of his former self. For several months the young man tried in every way to build up his broken constitution. A few weeks ago he came to Salisbury, after having made a tour through the South during several months. Here he decided to spend a short time camping out, but did not seem to enjoy himself. On Tuesday evening last he started to cross the lake with his negro attendant, when suddenly he stood up in the boat and pitched into the water head first. It is thought that the young man, brooding over his uncontrollable appetite for strong drink, took this way to end his misery. It is believed that when his body is recovered the valuable jewelry he had with him, and which the negro is accused of having stolen, will be found upon it. The colored man is greatly excited over the charge against him, and loudly protests his innocence. The disaster has effectively checked the jollity of the merry party of New Yorkers with whom the young man was identified.

JAILED AT LAST.

The Yankee Desperado Finally Shot and Captured.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Aug. 20.—Martin Casey, the outlaw, who was riddled with shot and then captured by State Officer Kellogg, has been brought to the jail here. On his arrival he complained of much pain in his right shoulder and left lung. The shot still remaining in him will be extracted in a day or two, as soon as he shall become somewhat stronger. He said that he had made up his mind never to be taken alive and that if he had known of the plan to capture him "things would have been very different." Casey, until his arrest, was the leader of a band of outlaws who operated on the border line of this State and Massachusetts. He owed his immunity from arrest hitherto to the fact that he kept passing over from one State into the other. In jail Casey seemed subdued and said that he would behave himself hereafter. He added that this was the second time that he was ever arrested. The first time was twelve years ago, when he had some difficulty with the Rathbuns in Stephentown. He met them in a bar-room. They were shaking dice. The Rathbuns shook "20" and Casey "21." They accused him of cheating and a quarrel followed. They lay in wait for him as he was going home and assaulted him with stones and knocked him down. He drew a revolver and shot both of them, but did not kill them. He served five years in Clinton prison for that offense.

HALF-BREED AND LUNATIC.

A Curiously Noted Couple Suit to Annul the Marriage.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Suit has been begun in the Supreme Court, Kings county, by Catherine Hall and Harriet S. Armstrong, as co-plaintiffs, and Andrew S. Hall, who was declared a lunatic in 1878 to annul the marriage of the latter to Mary J. Wood. The committee are the mother and sister of Andrew, who is twenty-six years of age, and son of the late Asa Hall, of this city. He inherited several thousand dollars from his father's estate and married a young lady who bore him two children. His eccentricities, however, necessitated his mother and sister taking proceedings in lunacy against him, and he was for two years in the Flatbush Asylum. His first wife died two years ago, and then Mrs. Hall took care of her grandchildren and looked after the business of his estate. On leaving the asylum Andrew went to live with his mother. Recently, it is alleged, he made the acquaintance of Mary J. Wood, a woman of thirty-five years of age, who claims to be an Indian half-breed, and who lived in a low, mixed community of whites and blacks at East New York. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Hunter, a colored minister, on June 1, and Hall then went to live with his wife in Sumner street. Having been adjudged a lunatic, he has no legal standing in court.

A CONVICT'S LUCK.

How He Worked a Stranger for Some Tobacco.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 20.—About a week ago Assistant District Attorney Kinsey sent a large armchair that had been occupied by Governor Pattison, when Comptroller, to the penitentiary to be reclaimed. It was returned. Mr. Kinsey sat down in it to read a newspaper. While thus idly swinging his hand to and fro his finger touched a slip of paper that had been fastened to the arm of the chair and was almost imperceptible. He detached the slip, and opening it out saw that it was a message from the convict who had made the repairing. The prisoner's name and the number of his cell were given, and the communication continued:—"I got three years from Williamsport. Got twenty-two months to do yet. Will get out May 20, 1885. Done this chair and made a good job of it. This ought to be worth some tobacco to whoever it belongs. Goodby, old man, times rolling on. Don't forget, whoever gets this note." Mr. Kinsey purchased five pounds of chewing tobacco, of the best quality, put it in a pretty box and sent it to the convict, with his compliments.

A SORRY MARRIAGE

Flight of a White Girl From Her Negro Husband.

The History of a Sad Case—Strange Intuition of a Beautiful Girl—Schemes of the Wretched Wife to Escape From Her Thralldom—The Final Flight and Pursuit.

EASTON, Pa., Aug. 20.—About six years ago Howard Prime, a negro, and Annie Wagner, a white girl, ran away and were married and since then have been living here. Two weeks ago a sister of Mrs. Prime and her husband came to town to visit their friends. On the 10th inst. they made an attempt to get Mrs. Prime away from her husband and have her accompany them to their home, where she would be well cared for. The husband heard of the affair and declared that if an attempt was made to abduct his wife he would cut her throat before she left the house.

Mrs. Prime packed her trunk and was preparing to leave, but her husband was on the alert and refused to allow her to go. Seeing that the husband was determined that a separation should not take place, Mrs. Prime's relatives late the same day abandoned their projects. After supper that evening Mrs. Prime, in her evening attire, left the house to go to a store, she said, to purchase groceries. Instead of going there she called at a house in which her sister and brother-in-law were stopping, put on a traveling dress and left with her friends that evening for Riegelsville. Before midnight Prime learned of the whereabouts of his wife, and early the next morning started in pursuit. The parties met in Riegelsville and Prime agreed to part with his "dearly beloved." All then came to Phillipsburg together for the purpose of taking a train to New York. After they arrived at the depot Prime changed his mind, and by threatening to kill his wife's sister's husband got possession of her and forced her to return to their home. Prime and his wife again lived together, when Mrs. Prime again left the house, took the 9 o'clock train for New York, and left for the home of her brother-in-law, which is in the West. At one time Prime gave his wife such a severe thrashing that her face was discolored for several days. Notwithstanding that and the fact that she supported him by washing for several families, Mrs. Prime continued to live with her husband until inducements were held out for her to leave him. Prime was on the streets searching for his wife, and up to 9 o'clock had not learned of the direction that she had taken.

THE "DIVINING ROD."

A Stock Company Formed to Develop Its Mysteries.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 20.—"Professor" Charles Latimer, a gentleman who is distinguished by his abilities as a mathematician and by the eccentric views he entertains concerning the pyramids of Egypt and other things that most people know nothing about and that are of no particular consequence, now figures in connection with a stock company having for its object the development of the hidden powers of the "divining rod." Mr. Latimer thinks that if a stick is held right it will twist around in the hands when there is any minerals concealed in the earth. Concerning these marvellous pieces of wood the Professor says:

"The mode of using the rod is very simple. You take the ends of the fork and grasp them tightly in either hand, allowing the portion where the forks join to point upwards, bending both forks slightly and holding the hands out straight from the body. When one walks over a mineral substance in the ground the electricity ascends through the body into the hands and rods and draws the central or conflicting portions of the rod downward. When this occurs minerals exist beneath the spot where you stand. If the rod begins to move as the person walks along take particular notice of the spot where you stand when the movement begins. When the rod turns completely over measure the distance from where it first began to move to the spot where it indicates minerals. This instance will give you the depth at which the mineral can be found. When one stands directly over the spot where a mineral is concealed beneath the rod will revolve in the hands; count the revolutions and you will have the number of feet the substance is in depth."

"I have made one very practical test with the divining rod which can not be disputed. I discovered something over a year ago a valuable coal mine by the aid of the rod and the rod only. It is opposite the county fair grounds at Youngstown, Mahoning county, and is known as the Wilek Hazel Mine. The mine last year turned out about 30,000 tons of fine coal, and is now in successful operation with a vein five feet in thickness."

"These Philadelphia parties mean business, if they are willing to make a thorough investigation of the subject. I would bring together all of the parties of value to the science whom I know, combining their knowledge and talent and settle forever the value of the whole subject." Professor Latimer has numerous divining rods. Most of them are of oak, some of hickory. The rod consists of the forked branch of a very young tree, with two forks, each about a foot or, perhaps, a trifle more in length and about half or three-quarters of an inch in circumference. The company, he says, is composed of Philadelphia gentlemen and have already subscribed $50 for the purpose of testing the value of the "rod," or, as he calls it, of "magnetic geology." The scheme, it should be explained, does not involve the Philadelphia gentlemen

NEW YORK'S CLAIM.

An Old Time Demand on the Treasury and Its Chances.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Comptroller Lawrence is engaged in a search through the records of the Treasury to see if the State of New York has ever had her share of the proceeds of the sale of public lands under the acts of 1841. This act provided that the proceeds of the sales of public lands should be divided pro rata among the States for school purposes. This was done for a year or two, when the Mexican war coming on, the demands on the Treasury increased and Congress suspended the operations of the act. Since that time it has never been resumed. All States except New York and Tennessee applied for and received their share of the money during the time the law was in operation. Recently New York applied for her share. There is one question which seems likely to seriously affect the title of the State to the money. An act was passed in June, 1878, requiring those States still having claims of this nature to present them within five years. The claim of New York was presented in July, 1883, a few days after the time fixed by Congress had expired. Indications are, on the whole, not extremely favorable to the State getting the sum without a special act of Congress. The amount of claim is about ten thousand dollars.

PLAYING THE MANIAC.

Melancholy Efforts of a Thief to Come the Insanity Dodge.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—B. A. Williams of No. 338 East Sixty-eighth street, appeared in the Yorkville Police Court as a complainant against Adolph Kuntz, who said that he resided in Orchard street. The charge against the prisoner was that he stole from complainant's buggy a valuable buffalo robe. Kuntz, when arrested, by Policeman Pfeiffer, of the Twenty-eighth precinct, feigned insanity and showed an especial abhorrence of any words addressed to him in the English language. When he was brought before Justice Kilbreth he made violent endeavor to keep his head covered, and was only induced to release his hold of his hat by the threats of Roundsmann Muldoon. Finding himself thus foiled in this direction the prisoner amused himself by dancing grotesquely and grinning in an ape-like fashion at the officials of the court. Notwithstanding his antics Justice Kilbreth held him in $500 bail.

OUT OF THE PACK.

A Whaling Vessel Locked in the Ice For Seventeen Months.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Aug. 19.—The whaling schooner Era, of New London, arrived in the Bay of St. John. She is from Hudson Bay, and her voyage extends over twenty-three months. Captain Clisby, her commander, reports having on board 360 barrels of oil and thirty-eight quintals of bone. The Era had been locked in pack ice for seventeen months and only escaped a fortnight ago from her winter quarters. One hundred and fifty miles east of Cape Chudleigh, Labrador, the ice was passed. Captain Clisby thinks that the past Arctic year has been the most severe within the memory of any person now living, and believes that the Greely relief ships will have great difficulty in ascending to a higher latitude than Cape York. This opinion entirely coincides with that of Captain Jackman, of the steamship Eagle recently returned from Iceland.

SALOONISTS WORSTED.

A Partial Settlement of the St. Louis Sunday Boodle.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 20.—Prosecuting Attorney Claiborne, who has charge of the cases against defendants in the Downing law cases, has upset the defense of the saloon-keepers, who based their immunity from his provisions on the strength of a law of 1857, which enacted that the corporate authorities of St. Louis "shall have the power, whenever a majority of the legal voters" authorize them, to permit the opening upon all days of the week of establishments for the sale of refreshments of any kind, distilled liquors excepted. He has found that a majority of the legal voters did not sustain the law when submitted to them at an election, and that it was consequently rejected at the polls.

AN IMPORTANT EVENT.

Mr. Sullivan Declines to Make Him Self Drunk.

BOSTON, Aug. 20.—John L. Sullivan, the champion pugilist, has struck sporting society dumb with amazement by "sweeping off" for one year. He had, as the story goes, promised his wife and mother not to drink before or behind his bar in Washington street, and upon that promise he signed the pledge. When questioned about the report he said it was true and he was glad of it. No one, he said, not even the Marquis of Queensberry himself, would ever be able to persuade him to take a drink of intoxicating liquor.

DROWNED IN AN ORE-PIT.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., Aug. 20.—At the Baytown Iron Works, near Cartersville, Ga., two young daughters of Rev. G. W. Wilson went into an ore-pit well filled with water to bathe. The girls were splashing around and finally jumped from a spring-board into ten feet of water and were both drowned.

A Rapid Young Man.

KEYPORT, N. J., Aug. 20.—William T. Grady, a dissolute young man, not long ago married Mary Hayes, of Oak Shades, and lived with her just five days. On Wednesday morning while on a spree he attempted to steal a ride on board of a Central New Jersey train, but slipped and fell and was sent in two. He was twenty-eight years old and had two other wives. He has just served a term in State prison for burglary.

THE MANIACS.

Who Are Still Fooling With the Niagara Whirlpool.

SUSPENSION BRIDGE, Aug. 20.—Captain Julius D. Rhodes, the diver, since Thursday has been studying the current of the Niagara from different points. Captain Rhodes' wife, a slender little woman with a pale face and delicate hands, is very anxious that the police authorities shall prevent her husband from entering the rapids. Magistrate Hill, of Clifton, says that Rhodes will not be permitted to enter the water from the Canadian shore, and Chief of Police Canfield, on the American side, will arrest Rhodes as a lunatic if he gets the chance.

Officer Jacob Pfeister, of Suspension Bridge, will assist Rhodes in putting on his armor if help is needed. Such a fool, they say, ought to be permitted to go into the rapids if he wants to.

A new Maid of the Mist will be launched on the American side of Niagara river at this place before the first week in September. On September 6 the steamboat, with colors flying, will run through the rapids to Lewiston, and work on the boat has begun at the water's edge, a few rods above the railway bridge.

ANOTHER DOUBLE CRIME.

A Young Cincinnati Kills His Mistress and Himself.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 20.—Still another has been added to the long list of crimes of bloodshed that have of late so often shocked the community. Josie Stupp, a young girl, 20 years of age and a resident of a respectable house on George street, was shot and instantly killed by her lover, Bert C. Schieble. Schieble immediately afterwards shot himself, and when the servants opened the room door in the morning the remains of both were found stiff in death. Stupp and Schieble were both from Dayton, Ohio, and prior to committing the deed Schieble wrote to the Coroner of this county requesting him to forward the two bodies to that city. There is no doubt that the double crime was as deliberately planned as it was deliberately carried out. Schieble had lost his position through irregularities brought on by his relations with the girl, and was likewise despondent and jealous because he fancied her affection toward him was cooling.

GLASS BLOWERS.

Probability of a Lockout or Strike Next Month.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 20.—From the present indications a lockout or strike of both window-glass and hollow-ware blowers will take place next month. Work is at present suspended in all the factories for the summer, but resumption should take place early in September.

The manufacturers, however, insist upon a reduction of wages, in some instances as high as twenty-five per cent, and the workmen assert that they will strike rather than submit to any reduction.

The glass workers here are seceding from the Knights of Labor and joining the American Flint Glass Workers' Association. The chimney glass blowers and pressers have already seceded, and the glass blenders, who meet next Sunday, say they will withdraw and enter the new organization.

A DISTINGUISHED HONOR.

Lord Coleridge's Baggage Exempted from Customs Inspection.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Collector Robertson has received a letter from the Secretary of the Treasury authorizing him to order the inspectors to pass the baggage of Lord Chief Justice Coleridge and his friends without examination. Lord Coleridge is expected to arrive here from England. The compliment of permitting him to escape the annoyance of the customs inspectors is a distinguished one. This privilege is very rarely accorded by the Treasury Department, and can be given only by the personal order of the Secretary himself. The Collector said that Lord Coleridge is the first traveler upon whom this honor has been bestowed during his term of office.

Preferred Death to Poverty.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—As the half-past 8 train on the Flushing and North Shore Railroad from Hunter's Point for Flushing was leaving the depot at Corona an unknown man, respectfully dressed, and who was a passenger on the train, walked to the end of the station platform and deliberately threw himself in front of the engine. He was instantly killed, his body being mangled in a terrible manner. In his coat pocket was found a letter, in which he bids his wife and two children good by, saying that he can not return home on account of poverty; that he was a baker and fifty years of age. No name or address was on the letter or envelope.

The Northern Pacific Opening.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—So numerous are the guests invited to be present at the opening ceremonies of the Northern Pacific railroad that two special trains have been provided to convey them over the Chicago & Northwestern road between Chicago & St. Paul. The first train, containing the German guests, will leave Chicago August 31, at 7 p. m., and the second, carrying the American guests, will leave the following morning. President Villard will personally act as host to the German guests.

Lord Aylesford's Texan Investment.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 20.—Managers of the Gould Southwestern system announce that they will entertain as their guest and conduct over their road Lord Aylesford, who is to make an examination of the land grant lands of the Texas & Pacific railroad, with a view to buying an immense tract, on which he intends to organize the largest stock establishment in the country.

Old Point Comfort.

HYGIEA HOTEL, August 15.

Editor Bulletin: I believe I promised to write you a few letters whilst East, and I find no better time than to-day, as I sit in my room, only some thirty feet from the waves of the Atlantic, as they come through Hampton Roads, and dash all around the hotel. It is delightfully cool, and the hotel is the most charming that can be found. There are over 500 guests, and yet all have comfortable rooms, and there is no noise or confusion, except the ceaseless sound of the breakers. The table is excellent, and oysters, crabs and fish are upon all sides. The bathing is fine, and the water is warm and agreeable at all hours.

Major H. T. Stanton and wife are here, and it is worth a visit to see the Major as he gallantly buffeted the waves, and displayed his manly form to the hundreds of visitors. There are about thirty Kentuckians, and all love the water, and enjoy the yachting and fishing. Lewis Apperson, of Mt. Sterling, my son and self sailed down near Newport News last evening and caught a fine lot of spot fish. The spot is considered the best table fish in these waters. Tell Col. Owens and Gus Calvert, Esq., that they should extend their trade to the Chesapeake, and they would not have to invent fish stories.

It is very interesting to attend guard-mounting and dress parade at Fortress Monroe. This fortress is within fifty yards of the Hygeia, and is the strongest and largest in our country. The target shooting with ten-inch shells, at a floating mark four miles out in the bay, is very exciting, and on yesterday the target was demolished; so you see, Uncle Sam has some fine marksmen left. The Barracks Band discomfited music morning and evening at the fort, and at noon and night at the hotel, and it is all of the finest. There are twenty officers and 250 men, and I find them genial and pleasant gentlemen, so you must know I am thoroughly reconstructed.

Our party came East by the Chesapeake & Ohio, and enjoyed its magnificent scenery to the fullest extent. On one part of the road it cost nine million dollars to construct eleven miles. You can imagine the character of the country from the cost per mile. Our train was late, and we did not reach Washington City until 8 p. m., although due there at 4 p. m. We stopped at the Arlington and found it an elegant hotel, and headquarters for Republicans. Judge Gresham and General Belknap board there. Senator Mahone was there also, and he seemed to carry the State of Virginia on his little shoulders. He reminded me of a bantam rooster, and from the talk about Washington, he is destined to be defeated in the coming election in Virginia, and I believe Democrats and Republicans will rejoice alike. Traitors to party receive but little respect from anyone.

Senator McDonald was in Washington, and was looked upon as the coming man for 1884. He left for White Sulphur, which seems to be for Democratic leaders what Saratoga is to Republicans.

Our party rapidly viewed the sights of Washington, enjoying the public buildings and grounds most, and then devoting one afternoon to a drive in the residence portion of the city. Senator Stewart and ex-Secretary Blaine have the handsomest dwellings.

One day was devoted to a visit to Mt. Vernon, and it should be a Mecca for all citizens of America. The ride down the Potomac, passing forts Pitt and Washington, is perfectly lovely, and the stay of two and one-half hours at Washington's residence, and an examination of the furniture, works of art and virtue belonging to and used by him, will ever be remembered by those who are so fortunate as to be able to visit them. The room in which Washington died, and also the one above it, where his wife died, are furnished just as they were at the time. Lafayette's room is also kept sacred. The magnolia planted by Washington just before his death, is now a large tree, and leaves from it have been carried as mementoes, to all portions of the world.

From Mt. Vernon we came down the Potomac and Chesapeake, 180 miles, to Old Point Comfort, and as we landed, just after sunrise, nothing could have been lovelier than the view, which gave us the Rappahannock and Ocean View in front, Fortress Monroe and Old Point Comfort and Hampton on the west, and the Chesapeake dotted with ships on the east and north. If I have time I will write from New York. G. S. W.

Telegraph Office Burned.

Special to DAILY BULLETIN.

Chicago, Aug. 21, 1883.—The telegraph office in this city was destroyed by fire last night.

Mr. A. R. Burgess who has decided to largely decrease his stock of dry goods, announces elsewhere a cheap sale that will certainly be of especial interest to the ladies. Mr. Burgess for some time to come expects to make his establishment a veritable "sensation store."

Persons who have been waiting to obtain children's and youths' clothing of the latest style and material can now be accommodated by Hechinger Bros. & Co., who have just received a large invoice which has been made expressly for their trade. They desire to assure their friends that the prices at which these goods have been marked are much lower than such goods are usually sold for. The stock has been imported with a view of offering special advantages to customers, and that they may confidently expect.

Attempted Suicide.

Miss Lizzie Harrison, the sixteen-year-old daughter of Isaac Harrison, of this city, was discovered about half-past six o'clock Monday afternoon, at the residence of Mrs. Spencer, on Short street, suffering from an over-dose of laudanum, taken with suicidal intent. Doctors Shackelford and Adamson were summoned, and by prompt attention saved the life of the young girl. The motive of the deed is said to be despondency occasioned by the thoughtless and unkind remarks of some of her companions.

PERSONALS.

Mr. Sherman Otto, of the Kentucky Central, is at home sick.

Misses Maggie and Lizzie Pollitt, of Tollesboro, are visiting Mrs. Given, of Third Street.

Mrs. McClure, of Paris, and her sister, Miss Minnie Winn, of Winchester, are visiting their uncle, Wm. Winn, near Washington.

Miss Maggie L. Conroy, who has been visiting friends in Maysville for several weeks, returned home, this morning, accompanied by Miss Laura Shea.

A Manager Interviewed.

Yesterday we had a pleasant call from Mr. W. H. Jones, manager of the new Seaman Combination. Immediately upon his taking his seat our reporter was ready with pencil and paper, to get all dots for our citizens, and interviewed the gentleman.

"Mr. Jones, does your combination play in our city?"

"Most certainly we do; and it is with pleasure we announce that we open the season September 6th, 7th and 8th."

"How is Seaman this season?"

"He is far better than ever before, having added much to his performance."

"Do you still give presents?"

"Now you hit the nail on the head. We give the finest presents this season that have ever been given away in any entertainment, and to prove the assertion, they will be on exhibition several days before we exhibit, and only ask an examination."

"What new feature have you?"

"Our greatest feature is Mr. Seaman's great suspension act—placing his daughter in mid-air without any support. We have many new features, but this is the greatest."

We could not hold Mr. Jones longer, as he desired to leave on the packet at one o'clock; but he assured us he would be with us again next week, and give us all of the points.

CAMP MEETING.

RUGGLES CAMP GROUND Aug. 19.

The morning prayer meeting was conducted by Cornelius Foster. The speaking meeting was led by W. G. Bradford. At the close C. J. Howes asked all who enjoyed the second blessing to stand up, whereupon a dozen arose. Then all who desired the blessings were requested to stand, and from twenty to twenty-five arose.

Rev. James Ruggles preached at 11 a. m. on "The Baptism of the Holy Ghost." The platform did not present its usual ministerial array, since Revs. Walsh, Eads, Phillips and Northcott had left on their several missions elsewhere.

A parting follows every meeting and gatherings here, howsoever blessed, must be transient.

Bro. Howes preached at 3 p. m. from Acts 15: 8: "Purifying their hearts by faith." Purity of the heart is not maturity; it is not freedom from temptation. A pure heart is one cleansed from all sin, as pure as gold is without dross. He illustrated this state by elucidating the declaration of the Master. "The prince of this world cometh and findeth nothing in me." Nothing that responds to the drawing power of moral evil.

Some men think that to aim at heart purity is like shooting at the sun, it can be aimed at but never reached. God accomplishes the feat for us when we believe on his son for the blessing. It is not attainable by repressing the old man. He must be cast out and if he is not there will be an outward manifestation of him. It is not attainable by getting more religion, nor by growth for this is not the teaching of Scripture, nor the testimony of men who have received it.

There are but two steps for the believer into the cleansing fountain, perfect surrender and perfect trust. The meeting closed with altar service, in which two persons were sanctified and one reclaimed.

A large crowd assembled at Saturday night preaching. Dr. Stevenson preached on the parable of the prodigal son. First thought was that portion of grace which God gives all men; the moral scaffolding for rearing the everlasting circle of Godly character; departure of the prodigal was not necessary. There was here a dwelling upon the rearing of children in the way in which they should go with an interesting comment on infant baptism as a sign of the solemn giving of them to God. A far country signified a vast divergence in thought and life. Recollections of home moved his return. An interesting altar service followed, ten persons coming forward of whom three were converted.

SUNDAY.

Early prayer service was conducted by Cornelius Foster.

Bro. Howes led the Love Feast at 8:30 a. m., briefly expounding "Perfect Love Casteth out Fear," saying, "It cast out the fear of want and of death, and if God cannot deliver from sin in this life he could not trust Him to deliver from death and hell." This meeting grew in numbers as the people arrived until the auditorium was well filled. Testimonies of the power of Christ to change and purify the heart were free and warm.

Though most of them were inaudible to the reporter, yet a light shone in many faces that came from the same sun that made luminous the faces of Moses and Stephen, and transfigured the person of the master.

Dr. Stevenson preached at 11 a. m. from Genesis 22: 12: "For now I know that thou hast not withheld thy son, thine only son from me." The fear of God is the beginning of wisdom, was the first thought elaborated. Some men pride themselves in not recognizing God's existence, and claims upon their social confidence, order and safety result from the fear of God. This perfect obedience of Abraham was the manifestation of his perfect faith. The final thought impressed was that earthly labor will sweeten heavenly rest. An interesting altar service followed the discourse.

Rev. C. J. Howes, of Covington, preached at 3 p. m. from Proverbs 3: 5: "Trust in the Lord with all thy heart, and lean not unto thine own understanding."

All men who are concerned about the destiny of the soul seek an object of trust. There are only two objects—the Lord and the human understanding. The acceptance of one object involves the rejection of the other. The understanding being what we learn from the cradle to the grave is an insufficient object of trust, since its only supplies—aside from Rev. and consciousness—come through the senses. And these last, affected by health, atmosphere and other things are very fallible. Science knows not what is force much less what a soul is, neither of Heaven or Hell. In death we want not a knowledge of trust, but we want to lean on the bosom of him who told Martha and Mary, I am the resurrection and the life.

The altar was again crowded with penitents, several of whom were blessed.

W. G. Bradford preached at night from Dan. 5: 27: "Thou art weighed in the balance and art found wanting." The crowd was large and very serious. Dr. Stevenson followed with an earnest appeal to which some responded, or rather to the unheard appeal of the searcher of all hearts—before the doctor ceased to talk.

The altar service was interesting, one young man receiving pardon who had been under conviction ever since last camp meeting. This was the last service and camp meeting ended in this grove for this year.

The children's meeting under brother Lane and others was so successful that a chapel is to be constructed for their use next year. The young people's meeting was also well-attended and productive of great good.

Don't fill the system with quinine in the effort to prevent or cure fever and ague. Ayer's Ague cure is a far more potent preventive and remedy, with the advantage of leaving in the body no poisons to produce dizziness, deafness, headache and other disorders. The proprietors warrant it.

A SOBER FACT.

BY A SUFFERER.

Most brutes know where their talents lie; A bear will not attempt to fly:
A founder horse will oft debate,
Before he tries a five-barred gate;
A dog, by instinct, turns aside,
Who sees the ditch too deep and wide;
But a Maysville Hog, the only creature,
Who, possessed of a devil, defies dame nature;
Who, when she loudly cries—'forbear!
With obstinacy fixes right there;
And, when his genius least inclines,
Aburdly bends his whole designs,
As when, entering your front door,
He wallows 'pon your office or hall floor.

Young, old, and middle-aged, all experience the wonderful beneficial effects of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Young children suffering from sore eyes, sore ears, scald-head, or with any scrofulous or syphilitic taint, may be made healthy and strong by its use.

A Riotous Outbreak in Ireland—Other Matters.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—Hon. Wm. W. Sykes, United States Consul at Cardiff, whose death has been announced in these dispatches, was in the 47th year of his age. He had been in office for seven years, having been appointed from New York in 1876. Mr. Sykes was the husband of the American actress and lecturer, Olive Logan. Although he has been ill for some time his death was unexpected. It is understood the remains will be taken to America for interment.

IRELAND.

The riotous outbreaks which occurred at Coalbridge between the Irish home rule element and the Orangemen were resumed with even more violence. Parties of the different factions assembled in the streets at an early hour and attacked one another with clubs and stones, and not a few pistols were freely used.

Many received serious wounds, while mostly all of them were more or less hurt. The police, who had anticipated a renewal of the troubles, were quick to reach the scene of the disturbance, but had to charge the mob repeatedly before they desisted. In fact so fierce did the conflict rage and so intense was the feeling between the fighting factions that at the first charge of the police both parties turned on them and beat them back. The police arrested twenty of the ringleaders, and are now patrolling the streets.

TONQUIN.

PARIS, Aug. 20.—The announcement that the siege of Hue, the capital of Annam, was begun on Saturday was confirmed. The French have ordered the strictest possible blockade of all the Annamese ports from this date.

GERMANY.

BERLIN, Aug. 20.—The German Government has taken serious offense at the nomination of Vicar General Sniegon as Suffragan Bishop of Breslau without having previously consulted with the Prussian Government, and the appointment may still further embarrass the negotiations with the Vatican which a little while ago promised success.

DRY GOODS.

Adopted in Council August 2, 1883.

J. P. PHISTER, President. Attest: HARRY TAYLOR, City Clerk.

AYER'S Hair Vigor

restores, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded or gray hair to a natural, rich brown color, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use light or red hair may be darkened, thin hair thickened, and baldness often, though not always, cured.

It checks falling of the hair, and stimulates a weak and sickly growth to vigor. It prevents and cures scurf and dandruff, and keeps nearly every disease peculiar to the scalp. As a Ladies' Hair Dressing, the Vigor is unequalled; it contains neither oil nor dye, renders the hair soft, glossy, and silken in appearance, and imparts a delicate, agreeable, and lasting perfume.

MR. C. P. BRIDGER writes from Kirby, O., July 3, 1882: "Last fall my hair commenced falling out, and in a short time I became nearly bald. I used part of a bottle of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, which stopped the falling of the hair, and started a new growth. I have now a full head of hair growing vigorously, and am convinced that but for the use of your preparation I should have been entirely bald."

J. W. BOWEN, proprietor of the McArthur (Ohio) Enquirer, says: "AYER'S HAIR VIGOR is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from my own experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair, and makes it glossy and soft. The Vigor is also a sure cure for dandruff. Not within my knowledge has the preparation ever failed to give entire satisfaction."

MR. ANNE'S FAIRBANKS, leader of the celebrated "Fairbank Family" of Scottish Vocalists, writes from Boston, Mass., Feb. 6, 1880: "Ever since my hair began to give silvery evidence of the change which fleeting time procures, I have used AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, and so have been able to maintain an appearance of youthfulness—a matter of considerable consequence to ministers, orators, actors, and in fact every one who lives in the eyes of the public."

MRS. O. A. PUESCOTT, writing from 18 Elm St., Charleston, Mass., April 14, 1882, says: "Two years ago about two-thirds of my hair came off. It thinned very rapidly, and I was fast growing bald. On using AYER'S HAIR VIGOR the falling stopped and a new growth commenced, and in about a month my head was completely covered with short hair. It has continued to grow, and is now as good as before it fell. I regularly used but one bottle of the Vigor, but now use it occasionally as a dressing."

We have hundreds of similar testimonials to the efficacy of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR. It needs but a trial to convince the most skeptical of its value.

PREPARED BY DR. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists.
